

Indiana Humanities
GRANTS AWARDED – MARCH 2015

Attucks: The School That Opened a City (#15-1016)

GRANTEE: WFYI Public Media, Indianapolis
CONTACT: Ted Green, 317.403.6003 / tedgreeniv@gmail.com
AWARD: $2000
PROJECT: WFYI will produce a video documentary about Crispus Attucks High School, create an oral history video archive and sponsor community engagement programs. (Summer 2016, film premiere)

'Be the Change' Film and Speaker Series (#15-1018)

GRANTEE: CANDLES Holocaust Museum and Education Center, Terre Haute
CONTACT: Dorothy Chambers, 812.234.7881 / dorothy@candleholocaustmuseum.org
AWARD: $2000
PROJECT: A six-program series will feature survivors of the Holocaust and genocide, as well as people who worked to rescue victims and change attitudes. (Sept. 2015 - Apr. 2016)

Celebrating Central Indiana's Cultural Identity: 100 Years of Civic Theatre (#15-1004)

GRANTEE: Booth Tarkington Civic Theatre, Carmel
CONTACT: Catherine Dixon, 317.853.6336 / catherine@civictheatre.org
AWARD: $1000
PROJECT: An exhibit will be developed from the archives of the Civic Theatre and displayed during the theatre's 2015 spring season. It will show how community theater has contributed to the Indianapolis cultural scene. (April - June 2015)

Columbus City Hall: Center for Civic Inspiration (#15-1005)

GRANTEE: Columbus Indiana Architectural Archives, Columbus
CONTACT: Tricia Gilson, 812.379.1297 / tgilson@columbusarchives.org
AWARD: $2000
PROJECT: An exhibit, three lectures and a model-building program for youth will examine the history of Columbus City Hall and the connections between design, community engagement and democracy. (Apr. 17-June 27, 2015)

Evenings with Great American Authors (#15-1010)

GRANTEE: Lanier Mansion Foundation, Madison
CONTACT: Anne Fairchild, 812.273.4531 / afairchild@indianamuseum.org
AWARD: $1981
PROJECT: Programs featuring Mark Twain, Harriet Beecher Stowe and Edgar Allan Poe will combine first-person dramatizations with commentary by Hanover College historians. (Sept.-Nov. 2015)

Harold Holzer Presentation, 'Lincoln and the Power of the Press' (#15-1011)

GRANTEE: Studebaker National Museum, South Bend
CONTACT: George Garner, 574.235.9714 / ggarner@studebakermuseum.org
AWARD: $2000
PROJECT: A lecture by historian Harold Holzer will accompany the museum's special exhibition, "Lincoln's Final Journey: A Nation Mourns." (June 30, 2015)

How Corn Changed Putnam County - Oral History Initiative (#15-1025)

GRANTEE: Putnam County Museum, Inc., Greencastle
CONTACT: Katherine Newkirk, 765.653.8419 / kit@putnamcountymuseum.com
AWARD: $2000
PROJECT: An oral history project will seek to capture memories of farm life and agricultural practices in five rural towns in Putnam County. The collected material will be used in a museum exhibit for the Bicentennial. (Mar.-Sept. 2015, oral histories; Oct. 2016, exhibit opening)

Humanities Action Lab Global Dialogue on Incarceration (#15-1008)

GRANTEE: IUPUI, Indianapolis
CONTACT: Elizabeth Kryder-Reid, 317.274.1406 / ekryderr@iupui.edu
AWARD: $2000
PROJECT: IUPUI students will conduct research leading to public projects on the past, present and future of incarceration, as part of a multi-university initiative. (Feb. 2016, digital projects open; Nov.-Dec. 2016, exhibit in Indianapolis)

Independence Day Social (#15-1003)

GRANTEE: Benjamin Harrison Presidential Site, Indianapolis
CONTACT: Roger Hardig, 317.631.1898 / rhardig@bhpsite.org
AWARD: $2000
PROJECT: A Fourth of July event on the lawn of the Benjamin Harrison Presidential Site will provide entertainment and education, with a participatory exploration of American Independence, the immigration experience and civic engagement. (July 4, 2015)

Indiana Folk Arts: 200 Years of Tradition and Innovation (#15-1014)

GRANTEE: Indiana University (Traditional Arts Indiana), Bloomington
CONTACT: Jon Kay, 317.403.6003 / jkay@indiana.edu
AWARD: $1995
PROJECT: Traditional Arts Indiana will create and travel an exhibit on crafts and traditions from the state's past that have continued into the present. (Sept. 2015, exhibit debut)

Lew Wallace: Shiloh Soldier, Ben-Hur Bard (#15-1017)

GRANTEE: Indiana University (WTIU Public Television), Bloomington
CONTACT: Perry Metz, 812.855.8000 / metz@indiana.edu
AWARD: $1995
PROJECT: WTIU will produce and broadcast a documentary on the life of Lew Wallace, author, inventor, painter, and Civil War general. (Nov. or Dec. 2015, broadcast)

Project SIGHT: African American Scientists and Inventors are Famous, Too (#15-1013)

GRANTEE: Technical Educational Support Tutorial Services, I, Gary
CONTACT: Edna Boone, 219.882.2705 / e_boone@hotmail.com
AWARD: $2000
PROJECT: This program will offer three lecture and activity sessions for Gary youth around the topic of African Americans in history who have been successful in STEM fields. (June-Aug., 2015)

State and County Bicentennial Local History Project (#15-1022)

GRANTEE: Jackson County Public Library, Seymour
CONTACT: Becky Brewer, 812.405.1833 / bbb@myjclibrary.org
AWARD: $743
PROJECT: The Jackson County Public Library will bring Dr. Michael Lacopo to southern Indiana to present two half-day workshops on genealogical research. (Oct. 2015)

The Indiana Album - Bicentennial Photograph Scan-a-Thon Series (#15-1026)

GRANTEE: The Indiana Album, Indianapolis
CONTACT: Joan Hostetler, 317.771.4129 / heritagephoto@indy.rr.com
AWARD: $2000
PROJECT: Six workshops to scan and teach the public how to preserve photographs will be held in Huntington, South Bend, Beech Grove and other locations. (Apr.-Sept. 2015)

The Story of Desegregation of Bloomington Theatres (#15-1002)

GRANTEE: BCT Management, Inc., Bloomington
CONTACT: Danielle McClelland, 812.336.5890 / director@buskirkchumley.org
AWARD: $2000
PROJECT: The Buskirk-Chumley Theatre's permanent exhibit will be expanded to include the topic of desegregation of theaters in Bloomington. Research for the exhibit will include an oral history recording of George Taliaferro, a prominent African American resident who participated in the process. (Dec. 2015, exhibit opening)

Truth Be Told: Alternative Narratives for Teaching about Columbus Day and Thanksgiving (#15-1019)

GRANTEE: Eiteljorg Museum of American Indians and Western A, Indianapolis
CONTACT: Martha Hill, 317.275.1377 / mhill@eiteljorg.com
AWARD: $2000
PROJECT: The Eiteljorg Museum will sponsor a one-day symposium for teachers on Native American perspectives and scholarship around myths related to two popular American holidays. (Sept. 26, 2015)

Veterans Reclaim Armistice Day (#15-1009)

GRANTEE: Kurt Vonnegut Memorial Library, Indianapolis
CONTACT: Julia Whitehead, 317.652.1954 / julia.whitehead@vonnegutlibrary.org
AWARD: $2000
PROJECT: Author Luis Carlos Montalvan will participate in a veterans' panel on using the humanities to heal from wartime experiences and the issue of veterans with disabilities. A resource fair and literary journal will also be part of the project. (Nov. 7, 2015)